In summary, the Archdiocese of Denver Catholic Schools recognizes the unique gifts and dignity of students with special education needs. We also recognize our responsibilities to work for the inclusion of all students seeking a truly Catholic education in our schools, that responsibility includes providing quality program that is at least as distinguished as any offered in the area public schools (CIC, 806, §2). The Archdiocese of Denver Catholic Schools will continue to enroll students with mild and moderate special needs that can be served through the existing resources of the school. The Office of Catholic Schools will continue to research opportunities to include students with more profound special needs as they are presented. Good Shepherd Catholic School does not have a Special Education program. We will attempt, however, to provide reasonable accommodations for children who have different educational needs.
